ALSO:

A series of Lenten radio retreats is being offered to radio stations by the U.S. bishops’ Catholic Communication Campaign in association with Franciscan Radio. The programs will also be streamed on the Internet for online listening and available in download-able formats for saving and sharing. The half-hour programs will help facilitate the prayer and reflection that are key components of Catholic Lenten practice. The re-treats are among several Lenten resources available on the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops’ Web site, <http://www.usccb.org/lent/> and directly at <http://www.franciscanradio.org/Retreats/Lent/default.asp> Web resources include descriptions of each program, background information on the bishops and links to other Lenten spiritual resources. The programs can be downloaded from the Web site as MP3 files for podcast or other personal use. There are six English-language and six Spanish-language editions of the retreats—one in each language for each Sunday.
